Mission Statement:

To bring glory to God through helping homeschool families develop the faith, character, and intellect of their children through Christ-centered classical instruction.

Vision Statement:

To make homeschooling accessible to families in our community.

Statement of Faith:

We are a Non-denominational Community. Our Statement of Faith reflects only the fundamental beliefs of Christianity because we are not a church and we are ecumenical. For theology beyond what is reflected here, we direct our students to the authority of their parents and their churches. We are, however, unapologetic in our belief in a loving, moral, and just God and His place in history and our lives. We desire to introduce our students to the Creator and the Savior, but the relationship must be theirs.

- We believe the Bible is the inspired, infallible Word of God.
- We believe there is only one God, eternally existent in three Persons, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
- We believe Jesus was fully God and fully man. He died and rose physically for the redemption of all who will believe.
- We believe Jesus is the only Way and Provision for redemption.
- We believe God, the Creator, is a loving and compassionate God who hears prayer, speaks through His Holy Spirit, and intervenes for His people throughout history and still today.
- We believe the God of the Bible created the Earth and that humans, who are body, soul, and spirit, are made in His image.
- We believe that our sexual identity as male or female is inscribed in us by God and the marital union of male and female is a fundamental dimension of being made in the image of God.
- We believe in the spiritual unity of all believers in our Lord Jesus Christ.
- Eternal life is a free gift that is received through faith in Jesus alone. Eternal life is neither deserved by anyone, nor can it be earned by good deeds.

Our Partnership Model

Parents are a child's lifetime teachers and are commissioned by God to train them mind, body, and spirit. Academic pursuits are incredibly valuable, but a child's everyday life experiences are some of their richest educational opportunities.

Trinity Springs provides classroom instruction on community days, and Trinity Springs parents commit time and effort as facilitators and instructors on at-home days. It is the parents role to encourage, supervise, and motivate their students through their educational process. In order for a hybrid model partnership to be most effective, parents and instructors must work together and communicate effectively about the students' work and progress. It is our hope and our goal that our program instructors and our parents can partner together to provide high quality academics and foster the love of learning for each student.

Hybrid Homeschool Program

It is important to understand that Trinity Springs Christian Academy is not a school, but a homeschool hybrid program. Each family operates their own homeschool under the laws established by the NC Department of Non-Public Education, and is solely responsible for the maintenance of their homeschool. Each family is the ultimate authority in their children's education. Therefore, homeschooling parents/guardians are responsible for the schooling of their children, and it is their sole responsibility to ensure that all of their educational needs are met. Each family must maintain their own official records. Though TSCA cannot do this for our families, we may be able to assist, or direct a family to assistance, if that is needed.

Mutual Respect for Traditions of our Faith

Trinity Springs is a non-denominational homeschool program and therefore respects the right of families to practice their Christian faith in the denomination of their choice. Naturally, there will be points of doctrine and tradition which differ from one family to the next. While a point of doctrine may be introduced or discussed academically, Trinity Springs endeavors not to promote the acceptance of or the denial of any Church doctrine not set forth in the Statement of Faith. Likewise, TSCA expects that all members of our community—instructors, volunteers, families, members, and other participants—practice understanding and respect for the various traditions of our Christian faith.

Conflict Resolution

In the event of a conflict of any variety within our community, we humbly ask that those involved look to the example laid out in Matthew 18. We ask that individuals discreetly take grievances to the person(s) with whom there is a grievance first. If the issue cannot be resolved at the individual level, it may be elevated and brought to administration and/or the leadership team to help facilitate resolution.

Trinity Springs Community Service Teams

TSCA is an educational partnership between each family and our community. Serving within the community fosters a sense of belonging and camaraderie among the families and makes our programming possible. Our service teams also help keep our tuition and fees low. TSCA families are required to contribute a minimum of 15 hours of service within the TSCA community during the 10 month academic year. Families experiencing exceptional circumstances may apply for an exception with administration.

Service Team Descriptions

Campus Stewardship

Facility Care Team - This team ensures that all areas used by our community are left in the condition we found them or better. This team will verify that our students completed their cleaning tasks as they should. These areas include the hallways, bathrooms, assembly room, and other common use areas. (i.e. make sure these areas are free of trash, spills, etc...) [Lunch Clean-up and classroom clean-up are not included in this team's responsibilities].

Teacher Substitutes –These parents will be available in the event one of our teachers is ill or otherwise unable to work. These parents may need to be available on relatively short notice. In the event of a teacher absence, TSCA will make every effort to provide lesson plans and materials for class. This year we have built substitutes into our staff, but we would be remiss to be unprepared for unforeseen events.

Reading Helpers - These helpers come to campus to assist during periodic phonics assessments and to help our youngest readers get a little extra reading practice or read to our students during story time.

Community Building

Photo Team – Take and/or collect photos throughout the year and possibly create a slideshow for the end of year program, take class photos, create a Memory Book/Yearbook for families to purchase. (Some faculty needed)

Meal Train Organizer – Creates and manages “Meal Train” for families in our community in case of a life event. i.e.: new baby, surgery, illness, etc...

Activities & Fundraising Planning Team - This team Coordinates & tracks the planning of community field trips, activities, special events, & fund raisers which are planned or hosted for our community. This team communicates with our families about upcoming field trips and activities and coordinates sign-ups and RSVPs.

Special Events Team – This is a sub-team under the Activities & Fundraising team. Members of this team will help complete tasks and run event activities the day of the event. The Special Events team helps set up, run, and break down special events. These volunteers will communicate and coordinate with the Activities and Fundraising team about upcoming events. Some events might include class parties, end of semester programs, field day, etc... This is the perfect team for the volunteer who loves to help, but doesn't love to plan.

Special Lunch Team - This team comes to campus to help set up, serve, and clean up our monthly special lunches.

Food and Drink on Campus

- * In an effort to ensure our students and teachers with life-threatening allergies are safe, TSCA is a peanut, and shellfish free community. Absence Notifications & Illness Policy

Absence Notifications:

In the event that your child will be absent from classes, we ask that you text TSCA's phone number (910) 876-8952 (as well as their homeroom teacher, if possible) either the evening before or the morning of their absence from community day.

This process is applicable for all short-term absences. For any long term absences (such as planned vacations occurring during times when classes are in session), please notify the TSCA Admin team (as well as your child's homeroom teacher) as far in advance as possible so that preparations can be made for any class time they will miss during their extended absence.

Illness Policy:

We would like to remind faculty, staff, guardians, and students alike that it is our goal to avoid spreading illness on campus if at all possible. We have a very strict policy on vomiting, fevers, and other symptoms of illness that interfere with faculty, staff, and students' ability to provide or receive instruction. Administration has been and will continue to strictly enforce this policy, and we would appreciate your help. Please read TSCA's Illness Policy below.

- A child, faculty, or staff member should not attend community activities if he or she is ill with a fever, diarrhea, or vomiting. They should refrain from participating if they have other symptoms like cough, sore throat, sneezing, or runny nose that prevent them from performing duties or participating in activities and require extra care.
- A child, faculty, or staff member will be excused from class if he or she has a fever or is vomiting. They may also be excused from class if they develop a stomach bug with diarrhea, or have other symptoms like cough, sore throat, sneezing, or runny nose that prevent them from performing duties or participating in activities and require extra care.
- A child, faculty, or staff member should be fever free and/or have not vomited for 24 hours and be free of other stomach bug related symptoms before participating in community activities.
- Faculty, staff, and guardians may reach out to administration if they feel uncertain as to which action should be taken in their particular situation.
- If an individual begins to feel ill while on campus, he or she may discreetly inform any teacher or administrator, and we will ensure that they are well cared for and help make arrangements for them to go home. If an adult or child vomits, a teacher or administrator must be informed as soon as possible so that the area can be disinfected immediately in order to minimize the spread of illness. We cannot stress enough how important this is.

Trinity Springs Christian Academy

Code of Conduct

Trinity Springs Christian Academy's Code of Conduct is designed to provide an atmosphere where the entire community—students, teachers, parents, and facility alike—are treated with respect and integrity.

PURPOSE:

Trinity Springs Christian Academy strives to foster a nurturing and welcoming environment so that our students can learn and thrive within our community.

With this goal comes the need to formalize the values and expectations of TSCA, so that community members may understand what is expected and acceptable behavior while on campus or during other TSCA related events.

Therefore, we will encourage and expect our students to:

Show respect for authority, which will include:

- Listening to the teacher when he or she is speaking and not participating in any negative, distracting, or other disruptive talking or behavior. This includes being respectful and attentive during Morning Prayers in the chapel.
- Never being intentionally disrespectful or insubordinate to any teachers or other adults.
- Following the directions of any teacher, assistant, activity leader, or any other adult helper.
- Arriving to class on time, being prepared to participate, and completing all assignments in a timely manner.
- Not leaving the classroom without adult permission.
- For students 6th grade and below, not leaving the building without an adult chaperone. And for students 7th grade and up, not leaving the building without first asking permission from an adult and then not leaving the building without a partner. No students should ever be traveling between buildings on campus alone.
- Remaining in designated study hall areas if not in a class.
- Playing in the Fellowship Hall, on the playground, or other designated play areas only during scheduled times or with permission, and only with adult supervision.

Show respect for others, which will include:

- Speaking courteously at all times to any and all adults and other students present.
- Showing genuine appreciation for the hard work of others, whether it's the work of other students, teachers, or another adult.
- Keeping all phones and other electronic devices put away during class time unless they are necessary for an assignment or permission is given by a teacher to have them out. The same goes for any toys or other items brought to campus which may become distracting for other students and/or teachers.

- Never participating in any fighting, hitting, kicking, choking, pushing, or any other behavior that can cause physical harm in any way to another person.
- Not engaging in bullying behavior of any kind or using crude, vulgar, divisive, or rude language at any time for any reason. This includes swearing and name-calling (be it verbal or written).

Show respect for property, which will include:

- Using only the rooms or areas in which classes or activities are being held.
- Not tampering with, playing with, or otherwise damaging any property belonging to the church be it in the classrooms or other areas of the facility.
- Treating the property of the classes—chairs, desks, etc...—with respect and proper care.
- Not roaming outside the buildings or to areas of the church not designated for TSCA use without adult permission and supervision.
- Cleaning up personal work areas after each class and putting trash in its proper place. This includes throwing trash in the proper receptacles in the bathrooms as well.
- Cleaning up personal lunchroom space after the meal and before being dismissed for recess.
- Never defacing or damaging any property.
- Refraining from eating and drinking (other than water) in the classrooms, unless it is designated snack time, a class party, or during other TSCA sanctioned times when food and snacks are part of a particular lesson.

TSCA's Code of Conduct is designed to provide an atmosphere where the entire community—students, teachers, parents, and facility alike—are treated with respect and integrity.

All students are expected to abide by the values and expectations set forth in Trinity Springs Christian Academy's Code of Conduct while present on campus and other TSCA related functions.

Failure to comply with these guidelines will result in appropriate consequences and could possibly result in the request for removal from the TSCA program dependent upon the severity of—or the frequency of—the incident or incidents.
